

[CONFIDENTIAL.]

(Rough Draft for Consideration Only.)

No. , 1923.

A BILL

To define the pay and salary in respect of which deductions are directed to be made by the Police Regulation Act, 1899, and in respect of which pension is to be paid under the said Act, as amended by the Police Regulation (Superannuation) Act, 1906; to amend the said Acts; and for purposes connected therewith.

Police Regulation (Amendment).

2

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. This Act shall be construed with the Police Regulation Act, 1899, as amended by the Police Regulation (Superannuation) Act, 1906, and may be cited as the "Police Regulation (Amendment) Act, 1923." Short title.

2. Section three of the Police Regulation Act, 1899, is amended by the addition at the end of the following words: "and the terms 'pay and salary', 'pay', or 'salary' mean, and shall as from the twelfth day of December, one thousand nine hundred and six, be taken to have meant, the remuneration ordinarily received in money by a member of the police force as the ordinary pay of his rank but not to include or to have included any allowances in kind or any money paid him by way of allowance of any nature whatsoever."

3. The Police Regulation (Superannuation) Act, 1906, is amended by the addition to section one of the following new paragraph:—

The terms "member of the police force", "pay and salary", "pay", or "salary" in this Act shall receive the same interpretation as that ascribed to them by section three of the Principal Act as amended by the Police Regulation (Amendment) Act, 1923.
